

an L3 communications company

Providing Professional Services Expertise Around the World

About MPRI

MPRI, an L-3 Communications company, is one of the nation's leading providers of professional services, security sector reform, and private sector enhancements both within the United States and abroad. Incorporated by eight retired senior military leaders in 1987, MPRI is headquartered in Alexandria, Virginia, and manages programs throughout the United States and in more than 40 countries overseas. L-3 Communications acquired MPRI in 2000.

Who We Are

MPRI is a training, simulations and government services company of former military, law enforcement, diplomatic and private sector leaders with uncompromising professionalism who apply integrity, ethics and innovative ideas and integrated solutions to defense and national security challenges.

What We Do

MPRI applies proven and innovative ways to serve our customers worldwide with products and services in security sector reform, military training and education, homeland security, law enforcement, democracy transition, maritime and driving simulations, laser marksmanship, emergency management, leader development, organizational design, strategic planning, recruitment, and more. Our employees are strategists, planners, trainers, educators, logisticians, foreign area specialist, former police and retired Foreign Service officers. As a team, they are skilled at creating comprehensive programs to meet specific customer needs.

Our Philosophy

Our primary resources are our people – men and women of courage and commitment who have devoted their lives to the nation and who now apply their skills, experience and deeply held values to the challenges of a rapidly changing international and national security environment.

Products and Services

International Security Sector Reform Programs, Integrated Development Programs and Senior Leadership Seminars – We serve international security, military, and law enforcement customers providing programs that promote understanding of current trends in democratic government and defense related matters, facilitate nation-building and reform, and provide expertise in civil-military functions in new democracies.

International Defense Training and Equipping – We provide international defense and military customers with training and education programs relating to force modernization and development, military stabilization, live-fire training simulations and exercises, maritime and border security, and more, all under license of the United States government.

U.S. Defense Education, Training, and Doctrine Development – We provide U.S. military, government, and law enforcement agencies with support in strategic planning, doctrine development, and training and education.

Logistics Planning and Operations and Resource Management – We support U.S. Army Materiel Command, U.S. Army PEO-Soldier, and U.S. Army Combined Arms Support Command to improve logistical operations by providing experienced strategic planners, instructors, subject matter experts, and technical experts.

Recruiting and Personnel Staff Augmentation – We support U.S. Army Recruiting Command by providing skilled professionals that assist in all levels of recruiting.

Law Enforcement Services – We support the U.S. government, international police organizations, corporations and law enforcement agencies by providing training and leadership courses, organizational assessments and strategic planning, driver simulation programs, Laser Marksmanship Training Systems, and civilian police instructors and advisors to police agencies in more than 40 countries worldwide.

Homeland Security and Emergency Management Solutions –

We provide U.S. and international governments and commercial customers with assessments, plans and integrated solutions to defend against terrorist attacks, control criminal activities, and manage all types of emergencies, including manmade or natural disasters.

Simulation Products, Training and Technology – We provide state-of-the-art simulation technology training for driving (patrol cars, trucks, emergency vehicles), laser marksmanship (all types of weapons), and maritime (navigation, ship handling, engines, and cargo handling).

Doing Business with MPRI

MPRI has built its reputation on maintaining a genuine, working partnership with its customers. First and foremost we respond to customer priorities, constraints, and direction. MPRI adheres to rigorous oversight and review protocols to validate customer needs and program execution. A close, cooperative relationship is key to our business and the customer's success. We seek a long-term relationship of mutual advantage, trust, and partnership.

Doing business with MPRI means you get more than service. MPRI combines people, training, and equipment to create synergy for our customers.

Contact Information

RJ Kolton, Sr. Vice President,
Strategic Business Development
p 703.684.0853
f 703.684.3528
rj.kolton@l-3com.com

1201 E. Abingdon Dr
Suite 425
Alexandria, VA 22314
www.mpri.com